Foreword

We present to you, in behalf of the Class of 1920, this, the Year Book.

We have striven in this volume to present a year-book which shall be both complete and accurate. Errors are inevitable. We only ask that, in perusing this volume, we be not too greatly censured.

That future year-books may thrive and prosper we offer a word of suggestion to our successors: we recommend the development of an editorial board early in the high school course, the formation of a picture committee, and the assembling of the material for the book early, instead of leaving it until the last six months of the senior year.

In conclusion we wish to express our appreciation to the art department of the school for their zealous help in the making of posters for our publicity campaign, to Miss Lois Henderson for her helpful suggestions for the newspaper, to our advertisers for their generous support, and to all others who have aided in making this volume a success.

THE PRIDE OF CAMBRIDGE

Great is the pride of Cambridge on this, the fourth day of March, nineteen hundred and thirty, when Mr. Henry Conroy, one of our young men, stands to take the oath of office, at Washington, of the President of the United States. The President has a record of which he is proud and of which Cambridge is proud. It begins with his high school days when he reigned, as only he can reign, as president of the class of 1920, making speeches, never to be forgotten by his classmates, stirring us ever onward! His year was a success both financially and socially!!! From class presidency he rose to the office of Mayor of Cambridge and from that highly honorable position to the President of the United States. We must also mention that he has with him as his secretary Miss Alice Johnson, vice president of the class of 1920. May you reign as successfully as in 1920 is our wish to you.

THE RED HEADED LEAGUE

Nothing in our estimation has advanced so rapidly and done so noble a work as the Red Headed League of Cambridge, formerly started by the class of 1920, of the Cambridge High and Latin School. Its able president, Mr. David Hurly and its pleasing vice president, Miss Isabel Kiely should be congratulated upon their never tiring efforts in advancing the club in every way possible. Miss Margaret McNeil now pleasing Bath by her modern dancing, Mr. Roger Pugh at present starring as only a member of the senior drama of that class can star as an actor, Miss Mary

Hart, now Mr. John P. Morgan's secretary, are also members to be praised for their great work. The charter members of the society are Miss Hazel Hunt, Miss Anna Adams, Miss Mary Canavan, Rose Rosencranz, Elizabeth Waters, and Alice Wright. The motto of the Red Headed League is "On with the Titain hue, may that color never die! Welcome! Peace!"

A SURPRISE

On April third, nineteen hundred and thirty, Mr. William Cunningham, a former member of the Cambridge High and Latin School, now to begin his duties as president of the First National Bank, was presented by his former classmates, with a beautiful pair of silver buckles which were an exact reproduction of those he wore in the senior drama of that year. He appreciated them very much and promised to treasure them highly. We wonder why?

EDITORIAL

Cambridge High and Latin School is to have the great honor and privilege of being the first to erect on its premises the wonderful new three-time clock which has lately been perfected by the Baker and Carlson Clock Works.

It is to be placed at the top of the high tower which was raised ten years ago as a memorial to the boys of the school who gave their lives in the World War. Here it may be seen from any place in the city and so will be of greatest benefit to the public.

The clock itself is very intricate as of course would be expected, having been invented by the above named company. On each of the four faces there are to be three dials, the top one United States time, the lower left Mass. time, the lower right New York time. That it may be more quickly seen which dial is United States time, an ingenious plan of having colors has been arranged. Plain red, suggesting Harvard for Mass. and red and white, the colors of Cornell for New York. The public is indebted to a certain member of the 1918 class at C. H. L. S. for going to Harvard and thus inspiring Miss Dallinger with this fine idea.

Harold Marchant, thanks to his musical talent has solved the problem of how the striking of the various times are to be distinguished. This new clock is to be a chime clock which will peal forth the Star Spangled Banner before each striking of U. S. time. Fair Harvard will herald the hours of Mass., and N. Y. time will be preceded by the tune "Cornell I yell like —."

The whole expense of this clock will amount to $100,000. This low sum has been made possible thru the generous offers of the loyal C. H. L. S. graduates.

Hymen Bronstein, George Carlson, Arnold Conant, John Meehan, Warren Murphy, John Purcell, Joseph Moulton, Raymond McKeever, John Looney and John Kennedy are to install this clock at the low salary of $25 a day. John Balfe will give his services as overseer and general boss for $100 a day.

We hope all those of the class of 1920 will strongly support this worthy object, for it will only mean a few hundred dollars on the part of each. Donations may be sent to Dr. Frederick Tweedie, D. M. D., Instructor at Harvard Dental School, or Mary Killam, Ph. D., Department of Philosophy at Radcliffe.

Revive your class spirit, 1920evites!

THE WEATHER

Boston and Vicinity — probable heavy showers—of meteors due to Marchant and Wiseman's experiment of last night. The first successful rocket to hit Mars was sent up last night by the Marchant and Wiseman Laboratory. The myriads of displaced meteors as well as the fragments of Mars caused by the terrific concussion of this gigantic phenomenon are expected to shower upon earth to-day. The public is advised to use the new fire-proof umbrella just invented by Francis Hurley.

THREE INJURED IN AIRPLANE CRASH

Plane of David Boyle and Fred Tobin Crashed Into That of Skinner Yesterday

The honeymoon of Skinner and Mrs. Eva Skinner was somewhat interrupted yesterday when their plane hit that of David Boyle and Fred Tobin, just as they were flying over the top of C. H. L. S. Boyle and Tobin, alumni of above school were racing the alumni airplane of Rindge when the former were suddenly hit by Skinner's plane. Skinner was taking his bride on a trip around the world and in his haste to outrace those of the wedding party who were pursuing them, he did not notice the airplane above him which suddenly took a nose dive. Both machines landed on the roof of the Annex and very tall ladders were procured for their rescue. The former Miss Cashman was the only one uninjured. This was probably due to the fact that she landed on her head and her vast amount of hair protected her. She ministered first aid to the other three until the arrival of the ladders. No one was fatally injured and as Skinner received but a slight cut in his arm, the couple proceeded on their honeymoon.

ORANGES

I was very much amazed the other day when walking along Massachusetts avenue to see a fair damsel coming toward me seemingly peeling an orange. Yes, girls, it was Mary with her orange. Ten years have passed since we graduated from C. H. L. S., that institution of knowledge, but oranges still hold the same place in Miss Joyce's estimation. Long live Mary and her oranges.

ROSES FAIR

I went to visit Harold Anderson's rose store the other day. It certainly was a treat! Harold always was a wise boy, and he has used his ability to great advantage. Tending flowers, although it means considerable care, does not take hours of study on uninteresting subjects. Furthermore it is reposeful and gives one a chance to meditate. Thus our honorable classmate has brought into existence several new kinds of roses.

He first showed me a very bright and smiling rose which is known as the McCloskey Rose. This flower can always be relied upon for good results.

I was still gazing in admiration when he brought forth another variety, the Director Rose. This is a shy sweet little flower of a slightly darker hue. It is still quite rare.

The Abromson Rose is not very well known. Anderson, however, has found its good qualities, and has made it flourish.

In contrast to the Abromson Rose is the bright, highly colored Rozencranz Rose. It is rather difficult to transport and plant this variety, but if the changes can once be made, it grows accustomed to its new surroundings with becoming grace.

Our friend has been experimenting a great deal on the Anne Murray Rose, which is a very interesting specimen. He is not certain what the result will be, but is hoping to make a variety that will be practically flawless.

When he said "I have been saving my prize until the last," I felt that there could be no flower more beautiful or wonderful than those I had just seen. But at first sight its charm fascinated me, and as I looked at it and studied it more carefully, I realized that what Harold had said about the Charlie Rose was true. It is becoming very popular because of its rare virtues, but is of too great worth to be purchased by many. It requires only fair treatment, and sheds its beauty and fragrance on everything about it. If a rose could be perfect—and all of Harold's are nearly so—this would be the one.

It was with deep regret that I heard the Memorial Hall clock strike six, for I was loath to tear myself away from such an enchanting spot.

"Come in again," said Harold cheerily, as I started to leave.

"Yes, thank you, I will," I answered, "and in the meantime I wish you and all your roses the very best that can come your way."

Miss Alice Wright, a prominent society woman has devised a new means of defense. Her idea is to arrange the hair in such a way that it will hold a limitless number of pencils. These pencils project far out into the air, and by their defiant attitude and mysterious motions terrify all who come near them.

A very exclusive gathering of artists is to be held in this city next week. Only those who have drawn women will be admitted. Thus Karl Genthner will probably be the only man. In his high school days, even, he made cartoons of those about him. Miss Eleanor Fuller, of Manhattan Market poster fame, will speak on the art of doing everything at once. Miss Pauline Goodrich and Miss Louise Hawkings, although rather shy when in the presence of the opposite sex (even if there is only one) have been induced to speak.

Marguerite Donovan, who it will be remembered, held a high record in her studies at high school, is now receiving a very high salary. I tried in vain to persuade her to allow me to put the actual figures which are so amazing in print. She explains the reason as being that she fears that a host of burglars would flock to her mansion at the astonishing disclosure.

The Cambridge Opera Company will make its first appearance at the Cambridge Opera House (Brattle Hall, of course), on three weeks from Thursday. Miss Isabel Hall will make her musical debut that evening as orchestra leader. Miss Lillian Gay, or Madame Awful Bashful will star. Gordon Harvey and Vedna Bate will take the parts of Anthony and Cleopatra. Since so much home talent is being exhibited, the whole town will turn out.

The Misses Ellinor Brennan, Dorothy Kimball, and Esther Masse have clubbed

together in the common cause of making a living. They are making more than that. Because of their attractiveness and ability, they are in constant demand. They do everything to perfection. They are to be recommended by the "Hurly Burly Sextet" for whom they have acted, the Cambridge Opera Company, for whom they have sung on occasion, and many other reliable firms. A large house and several autos, not to mention a much prized picture of the cast of the Senior Drama of the class of 1920 in C. H. L. S. have been purchased to add to their comfort.

GRAND PRIZE WON BY MISS HARRIET LANE

Mr. Whoriskey offered $800 as a prize to the successful namer of the picture hanging in C. H. L. S. Art Gallery. The picture was one of a passionate pianess pounding pugnaciously upon a piano. Miss Harriet Lane's title, "Waiteing" won the prize.

By an engraver's error the cartoon of Alice Johnson was made larger than any of the rest. We cannot deny that Miss Johnson may be larger in at least one way than any of the others, but of course no one could be more important than our president, Henry Conroy. Our intentions were to have Conroy and Miss Johnson the same size, but the engraver was apparently so fascinated with Miss Johnson's picture that he lost his head, and forgot that after all, it was Henry Conroy who led our class through its last year.

We hope some one of our readers will respond to the pleas of our well-known friend, Mr. Wesley Day. The simple fact is this: he wants to get married. He has endured single life long enough. We, having sympathy for all sufferers, are trying to help him. Now, attractive young ladies, here's your chance. We can not deny that the suppliant shows signs of a preference for a past member of the Class of 1921 at C. H. L. S., but nothing is definitely settled, and we advise all to try.

A PLAY ON OUR ESTEEMED CLASSMATES

One Fine Day after the Snow and Frost had all gone, and the birds were beginning to Carroll from the Moore, Henry and Rose started down a Lane. Far off on a Hill they spied a Darling White Lamb which was being Chased by a cute little Black pig which sometime would be a Cunningham. "Igo there Dailey," said Rose, "to lie on the Green grass where the breezes blow Cooley to Reed stories and Wright letters. I Foster Aims to be a second Stevenson."

"And I to be a Johnson," he remarked.

"Do you ever Rowe?" he asked.

"I Cannon Good days," was her reply.

"Let's play Ball," he suggested.

"Yes, and then we'll Hunt for blue Bells and Tansey.

They had a Gay time until Henry said, "I'm Ready for dinner. We'll Boyle some Water for the eggs and Baker "tater" in the live Coles. "Then," added Rose, "We can have the Graham crackers and the Welche's grape juice and that Goodrich milk that I brought for dessert. "Oh—" cried she, "there are two ugly snakes—Killam!" In his eagerness to help her Henry received bad Burns from the Steem. When the eggs were Dunn they made no Delay in partaking of the Joys of their feast. After dinner they decided to Hazzard a trip across the Marsh to the Zoo which would save two Miles. By Meere chance they arrived safely, and Henry Drew two Nichols from the pocket of his Taylored coat.

"Why, this is Free,-man!" said the Director of the Zoo.

"Oh, see how that Wolfe Cocks his head!" cried Rose. Then her Hart gave a throb as she saw the fierce Lyons—in fact, it frightened her so much that she ran around the Connor but alas Stubbed her toe and fell flat. She was so glad when they met her uncle and he offered to take them home in his Ford Carr that she Walzed all the way to the auto.

Their happiness was unbounded when the uncle said, "If the Weatherbee fair tomorrow I will take you for another ride.

SENIOR DRAMA CAST

senior Drama

The senior class showed its ambition and enterprise when it undertook to present such a masterpiece as Booth Tarkington's "Monsieur Beaucaire." In addition to the difficulty of the piece, the drama committee went far in advance of any of its predecessors, by staging two performances of the play. We all looked for the result of their endeavors with great expectation. We were far from being disappointed! On the evenings of February sixth and seventh, we enjoyed one of the most agreeable surprises of our lives when we observed the finish with which the large cast presented the dramatic episode.

The committee still further departed from all precedents by presenting two different actors in the leading role. Eliot Duvey delighted us on Friday night by his perfect French accent, and Francis Kennedy surely used his natural grace to the best advantage when we saw him Saturday. We fortunate ones who witnessed both performances of the play, were amazed that two such entirely different conceptions of the same character could so equally well fit into the unity of the play. It is entirely a matter of taste as to which conception most nearly coincides with one's own.

But Lady Mary! We are perfectly sure that there could have been no other Lady Mary! Lillian Buckley, as leading lady, was a very charming and attractive "English rose"!

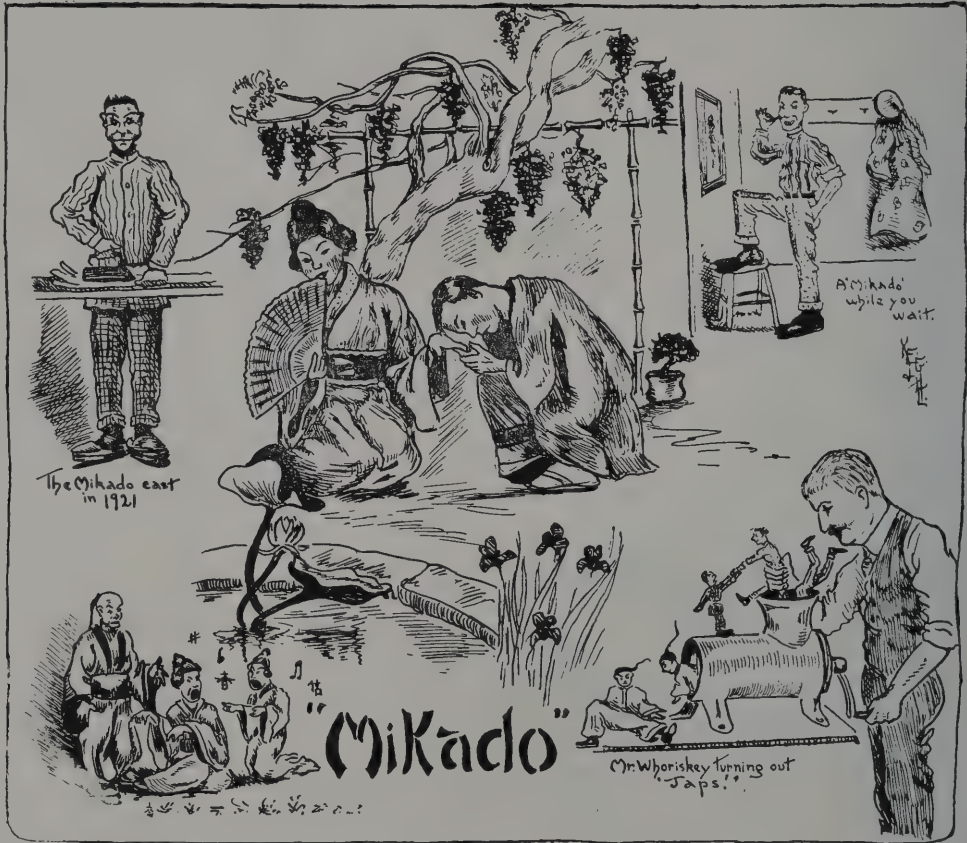

How fair and how modestly flirtatious—if one can be so—was our Anna as Lady Clarise! We do envy the faithful Captain Badger his ultimate victory! This little "side" romance was one of the most delightful parts of the entire play.

If villains are ever perfect, Rollin Atwood, as the Duke of Winter'set, was a perfect one. It is not easy to rage and swear in as natural a manner as Rollin acquired! And, of course, in "Monsieur Beaucaire," as in every other good play, there is a funny man. The professional New York conception of Mr. Bantison as a fat man could not have tickled our sense of humor more than our own "little" Mr. Bantison.

We must compliment the lords and ladies upon their dignity and courtesy throughout the play. Those bows and courtesies are not easy to do gracefully, we know, from our own early memories of dancing-school!

The drama committee under the chairmanship of Eleanor Fuller deserve great applause for their strenuous endeavors. The work before and after the play and behind the scenes is not as a rule appreciated, for it is a thankless task. But we do thank you!

The entire senior class is grateful to Miss Hartigan, under whose expert coaching the cast acquired its professional air. If ever the senior class succeeded, it succeeded on those two nights in February!

THE MIKADO

"The Mikado," a Gilbert & Sullivan comic opera in two acts, was presented by the musical clubs of the school on the evenings of April 22 and 24 in Brattle Hall. The opera, familiar to the parents of the pupils, was appreciated by all present. The hall was filled to capacity both evenings, and many were turned away from the doors. The success of the "Pinafore" the year before may have been the reason for the great interest shown in this year's performance.

The hard drilling of the cast by Mr. Whoriskey and Miss Hartigan was rewarded by a performance in which amateurishness was conspicuous by its absence. Every pupil taking part threw himself or herself into the character assigned without any reserve. The stiffness found in so many school performances was noticeably lacking. It was evident that those taking part had applied themselves closely to their parts to obtain such good results from this difficult opera.

As the Mikado of Japan, Isadore Zarakov showed the same earnestness that has made him a star on the field of athletics. He brought out the best there was in his part.

As the Lord High Executioner, Wesley Nichols kept the audience laughing from the beginning to the end of the opera. His part was one of the most difficult of all and his interpretation of it is to be commended.

As Nanki-Poo, son of the Mikado, Arthur Sherrill was well received by the audience and was asked to give several encores. His work with Vedna Bate was especially good.

As Yum Yum, engaged to Ko Ko and in love with Nanki-Poo, Vedna Bate showed to advantage her powers both of singing and of acting. She carried this leading part finely. Her part in "The Mikado" is the direct opposite of the one that she had in the "Pinafore" last year. Those who have seen her in both operas praise her versatile acting.

As Pitti Sing, sister of Yum Yum, Dorothy Gay was very piquant. She won the audience by the song "For He's Going to Marry Yum Yum."

As Peep Bo, another sister of Yum Yum, Ruth Kimber completed the delightful trio of good singers and clever actors. Her work was on a par with that of the best in the cast.

As Katisha, an elderly lady, Claire Waite was perfect in every detail. She acted her part to perfection throughout. Her thorough appreciation and understanding of the music was especially marked.

Douglas Mackinnon, as Pish Tush, having a minor part, proved to be the hero of the day. Although suffering from tonsillitis, he went through his part excellently, if not as strongly as usual. His devotion to duty is deserving of great praise.

As Pooh-Bah, Lord High Everything Else, Gorden Harvey interpreted his part well and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

Individually and collectively, everyone in the cast did finely. The success this year insures the production of the "Pirates of Penzance" next year, if all goes well.

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Babra Nolen

Dora Bell

Miss Brown

Lillian Buckley

The G. A. A., along with other school activities, has had a very successful year. Our active and enthusiastic president, assisted by the other officers, carried things through in record time with record success. Miss Brown was with us this year, performing with ability her duties as advisor. We are grateful to her for the effort and time which she has put into the G. A. A. and we also wish to thank Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Bramhall for their kind interest.

The officers for the year have been:

President LILLIAN GAY    Vice-Pres. BARBARA NOLEN    Secretary DORIS HARE

Executive Committee: Dora Bell, Lillian Buckley, Alice Groden, Dorothy Rand.

First on the program came the Freshman party,—one of the best yet. It was a Hallowe'en Party. The costumes were wonderful, particularly the big fat pumpkins, one of which won the prize for the funniest costume. It would not be fair to tell the tricks of the Sister Spirits in the Lower World who initiated the Freshmen, but they certainly got up a spooky and terrible initiation. We can not give too much praise to the girls who served on that committee, for their work throughout was exceptionally good. Entertainments followed in the hall, among which was a play entitled, "The Haunted Gate," in keeping with the times. After dancing, refreshments, and cheering we departed.

The Christmas Meeting was a great success. One of our well-known teachers made a splendid Santa Claus.

The Girl Dance was held on January 23. For the first time since the Class of 1920 entered High School, the dance orders were hand-painted. This work was done by a committee of artists under Pauline Goodrich. The decorations on the Dance Orders added a great deal. The gym was well filled and we feel that all who came had a very pleasant time.

The next event was the Boy Dance on April 10. About 50 couples enjoyed themselves to the tune of Murphy's orchestra. Dancing lasted until quarter of twelve.

The "Periscope," with Ruth Miles as editor is meeting with great success. It has been done this year for the first time in the school, on Miss Slade's mimeograph. The idea of having 10-cent subscriptions was also new.

There have been several distinctive features about this year in the G. A. A. We were given a much-needed office to be entirely for our own use. The number of girls of all classes attending football games has been very large. Our president certainly knew how to work up enthusiasm.

Owing to the pressure of her duties as editor of the "Review," Harriet Lane was forced to resign from the Exec. Com. early in the year. Alice Wright was chosen to fill the vacancy, but because of illness had to leave school. Dorothy Rand was then appointed and has been serving ever since.

The Seniors have had a share in the success of this year, and hope that following classes may always find the opportunities for good times and friendship which we have found in the G. A. A. Best wishes for the future to the G. A. A.!

THE DEBATING TEAM

Severs

In debating, as in almost all other school activities, we have had a uniformly successful year. Although because of the cessation of debating activities in other schools during the past two years we were able to arrange but two debates—and broke even in one of these and lost the other, our teams showed up very well and the decision might with as much justice have been given the other way. Our first debate was a dual with the Quincy High School on the subject of compulsory military training. The negative team stayed at home and the affirmative went to Quincy. Although we won but one decision in the debate at home, it was more than an even break on our part, for the best speakers in both places were members of our team. The home team was composed of McLaughlin, Sievers and Simmons, while Goodwin, Rowe and Lawrence were the unlucky ones invading Quincy.

But the chief debate of the year was that with Everett, which took place in our hall on the evening of February 20, before the largest crowd that has ever assembled there for a like event. The subject was the Smith-Towner bill providing for the federalization of education which the Everett team advocated and we opposed. Although we were superior in arguments, the judges preferred Everett's style of delivery to ours and gave them the decision by a two to one vote. The winners were Carl J. Wennerblad, Albert Vanderhoof and Theodore Von Rosenvinge, while we were represented by George A. McLaughlin, Paul E. Rowe and Edward A. Sawin.

Besides these two outside debates the debating association held a prize speaking contest shortly before Christmas, which brought to light much promising talent among the members of the lower classes. In this contest Harry V. Goodwin won first place and Hortense Wetherbee and Arthur G. King second and third, respectively.

This year marks the inauguration of a new method of conducting the debating affairs of the school. Under this new plan a debating council, consisting of a representative from each of the four classes, together with four others elected at large is in command of all the debating activities of the school.

THE FOOTBALL TEAM

Wiseman, Mgr.	Murphy	Kozlowsky	McGowan	B. Zarakov	Frye	Mr. MacDonald
Day	Duffy	Rudman	Sayward, Capt.	I. Zarakon	Skinner	Kelly
	Manyark				Foster

In the first league game of the season, played with Somerville, who has the heaviest high school team in the State, we lost by a 6-0 score. The first play of this game nearly resulted in a Cambridge victory, as the long forward pass was used, but one of the linemen in his eagerness forgot himself and stepped off-side, thus inflicting a penalty upon Cambridge. The next game was played with Brookline at their field, and it resulted in a Cantab victory, the score being 12-0. In this game John McGowan, "Bill" Sayward, "Fritz" Kelly, and "Reggie" Hurd played wonderful football. Soon after this Malden was sent home with a 6-0 defeat. Then came the crowning success of the year as far as Cambridge was concerned. We played Everett and beat her 7-0, chiefly through the fine work of "Izzie" and Barney Zarakov. The Everett team with the much heralded "Buck" Sweetland and Roy Kelly was unable to distinguish itself. We next ventured forth against our old foes across the street, the Rindge Tech. boys. Last year Cambridge beat Rindge for the first time in ten years, but this year's team beat them more decisively, the score being 28-0. Medford was humbled by the score 12-7. In this game, Kelly, our quarterback, covered himself with glory by his all-round work. On Thanksgiving day Cambridge journeyed to Newton to play Newton High, whom we have never beaten in football since 1910. The boys from Cambridge were thinking too much of their turkey dinner and paid little attention to the game, with the result that Newton won, 20-12.

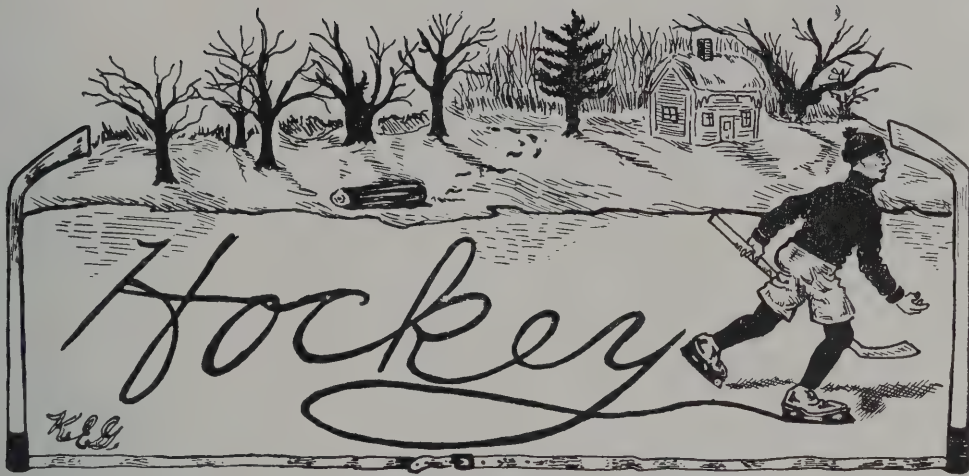

Thus we finished the season with six victories and three defeats, landing second place in the Suburban League. John McGowan was selected unanimously by all the sporting editors of the Boston papers as all-interscholastic end, which is indeed something for the school to be proud of. Joseph Kozlowsky and Izzie Zarakov were picked by the sporting editors as all-inter-scholastic players, but the verdict on these players by the editors was not unanimous.

Captain William Sayward was re-elected to lead the 1920 team and we all wish Coach McDonald, who has put Cambridge High and Latin School on the sporting mall, and Captain Sayward, the most successful season in 1920 that Cambridge has ever witnessed.

THE HOCKEY TEAM

Tisdale, Mgr.	Culhane	Sayward	McGowan	Brenan	B. Zarakov	Mr. MacDonald
Tobin		Foley	I. Zarakov, Capt.	Cronin	Fitzgerald

Under the guiding hands of Captain "Izzy" Zarakov, Coach McDonald, and several former stars of C. H. L. S. the 1919-1920 aggregation rounded out the most successful season in a decade. With only two defeats during the entire season, the team may well feel proud of its record. Several of the fellows were honored with All Interscholastic distinctions.

John Fitzgerald played a brilliant game in goal, and was the unanimous choice for Interscholastic honors. He should be a sensation when in college circles.

"Izzy" and "Sonny" were names that became famous. Both were outstanding stars. Their team work was the best brand exhibited in the league and they are entirely deserving of the praise bestowed upon them. "Bill" Sayward, while new to hockey, developed into a steady, effective player. Teaming sometimes with McGowan and other times with Barney Zarakov, he worked up a strong means of defense and checking. Barney Zarakov proved to be the most versatile player on the squad. He also won the coveted distinction of being an All Interscholastic selection. Fred Tobin showed great improvement over the previous year and he made an excellent defense partner for Sayward. Cronin, Brennan, Culhane, and McGowan also came in for their share of the success of the team. The nucleus for next year's team appears quite formidable inasmuch as Fitzgerald, Sayward, Izzy Zarakov, Foley, and Cronin will return. Foley has been elected captain for next year, and with a stronger outer defense, the team should have little trouble in acquiring stellar honors.

Manager Irving Tisdale was an excellent worker, and while the season was somewhat broken up, due to ice conditions, he arranged as many hard and interesting games as possible.

SWIMMING TEAM

SWIMMING TEAM

The first team to represent Cambridge High and Latin School in swimming was formed this year. Although handicapped by lack of a coach and sufficient material, the team came through fairly well. Captain Ray McKeever was the individual star of the team, scoring 20 out of the total of 60 points of the three meets. In the English High meet McKeever made a second and a third place. In the Boston College High meet he captured two first places, thereby winning the meet. Although at a disadvantage on account of leg injuries, McKeever managed to get two second places against the noted Hawaiian swimmer, Chander Woods, in the Huntington School meet.

Eisenhauer, the diver, was the next highest scorer of the team, having won three first places, making his total 15 points. He has done remarkably well, considering that this is his first year at diving, and is said to be the most promising school-boy diver in Greater Boston.

Samuel Rapport, the plunger, ranks next with 14 points. He captured most of his points in the plunge, and also showed up well in 100-yard swims.

Higley, Atwood, Saywood, and Murphy also did good work in the 100- and 200-yard swims.

Eisenhauer and Rapport were the only two swimmers to compete in the New England School-boy Inter-Scholastic meet. Eisenhauer scored second place in the dive, while Rapport tied for fourth in the plunge.

It is hoped that Latin School will be represented by a strong team in ensuing years.

THE BASE BALL TEAM

	Culhalne	McCreahan	Clyde	Vickers
Linnehan	McGillivray	McGowan	Mr. MacDonald	Brenan	Zarakov
	Gautreau	Capt. Cote		Dambrosio
Hurley	Foley		Graham	Cronin

Prospects for a championship baseball team at C. H. L. S. this year are very bright. At the beginning of the season, about eighty candidates reported to Coach Leander MacDonald and Captain Warren Cote. About twenty of this squad are retained at present, the rest joining the Freshman, Sophomore, and second teams.

Coach MacDonald was very fortunate to have seven veterans return to school. They are: McGowan, 1b; Cronin, 2b; Captain Cote, ss; Foley, 3b; Zarakov, 1f; Dambrosio, rf; and McCrehan, pitcher. Dambrosio played third base last year.

From the recruits Mr. McDonald has found two high-class men in "Punk" Gautreau and "Johnny" Graham. They play catcher and centre field respectively.

The "Cantabs," as we are called, opened the season April 10th with a 5 to 4 victory over the strong Somerville High team. Somerville led 3 to 0 until the fifth inning. At this point, the Cambridge boys, due to the batting of Cronin, Gautreau, and Cote, mixed with a couple of errors, put over five big runs. These were enough to win. For Somerville, Doud, Hagen, and Toulouse excelled. Cote and Gautreau played best for C. H. L. S.

On the following Saturday the heavy hitting "Cantab" team walloped Brookline to the tune of 19 to 6. The Cambridge boys hit the Brookline pitchers with everything but the water-pail.

The next Monday, April 19, Cambridge played its fast-growing rival Newton. It was a fine battle all the way. Newton led until the fourth, Latin tying the score in this session. The tie continued to the sixth inning. Here Cambridge broke the ice by scoring four runs on four hits and two errors. Newton came back strong in the eighth, but fell one run short of tying. Newton threatened again in the ninth, but the attempt failed, the last out being a fast play, Foley to McGowan. Foley, Zarakov, Gautreau and Sullivan excelled for C. H. L. S., while Hodder, Peppare and Seavey kept Newton in the game. Cambridge now leads the Suburban League with three victories and no defeats.

THE REVIEW

The Cambridge Review of 1920 has not failed to hold to the standard set by the Reviews of former years. The staff has worked with the heartiest co-operation, which means everything for the success of any paper.

This year the Review has had a new faculty advisor, Miss Mary Hardy, whose efforts have been a great help both to the editor and to the entire staff.

In the early part of the winter, the business manager, Nathan Olken, felt obliged to resign because of pressure of studies. He worked hard to get advertisements for the first two issues, and in other ways performed his duties well. The Review appreciates his work in its behalf.

With the new year came an innovation in the Review, the fourth issue being a Graduates' Number. Some of the distinguished and talented sons and daughters of Alma Mater contributed splendid articles and stories to this issue. Anything new is usually a success, therefore this issue was well received. Perhaps the subscribers of the paper appreciated the oldest graduate's article on "The Early Days of the High School" more than any other; for it made them realize the contrast between the size of the original school, and that of the present day. After reading that, they should be prouder than ever of their fine school.

The distinctive features of the Cambridge Review of 1920 are its neat cover and cuts, its classical literary department, its unique Parlez-Vous page.

Now there are more than seventy-five school papers in twenty-seven different states; in the District of Columbia, in China, Mexico and France, on the Exchange List. Perhaps before the fifth and last issue, the Review may travel in every state of the United States.

Whatever criticisms may be made of the Review, the staff may feel justified in saying that it has done its best, and no more can anyone do.

May the editor of the Review for the next year take up the pen, and, assisted by a competent staff and by a working student body, write words worthy of Cambridge High and Latin School.

C R E W

Candidates for crew were called out in February, and a squad came out which, although not prepossessing, from the point of numbers for a school the size of C. H. L. S. contained plenty of good material. The men who reported for practise during the season were: Anderson, Cooley, Frost, Frye, Kelly, Lynch, Manach, Penniman, Rudman, Skinner, Smith, Stevens, and William Manning, coxswain for the last few seasons and captain of the crew this year; with Bunyon, Cunningham, and R. Fitzgerald competing for the position of cox. The forming of a crew was carried out under exceptionally favorable conditions this year. Through a newly awakened interest shown by Harvard in schoolboy rowing, with the Cambridge crews foremost, practise was taken three times a week on the rowing machines in the Newell Boat house at Harvard; while on Saturday mornings the tank was available, and admirable opportunity was offered for the men to become accustomed to rowing when it was still too early in the season for river work. Later on, when the ground was in better condition, there was undertaken in addition to the rowing practise, a stiff program of running to develop wind.

The only cloud that showed on the horizon was the resignation of Captain Manning, which came as a surprise and disappointment to all, for his ability to handle his crew had gained for him the respect of the entire squad. The situation cleared however with the later election of Captain Henry Stevens, bow man on the last year's crew, in whom every confidence is felt, and who is expected to bring out a topnotch crew.

In the early part of April, the men went out on the river for the first time, and rowing was started under the direction of the new Captain. Conditions continued favorable with the shifting to the water, since this year for the first time there is opportunity for practise with two shells which are owned jointly by Rindge and ourselves, to be used on alternate days for practise. The acquisition of a new shell is of course to the advantage of the crew, since every man will get more practise than would otherwise be possible, and it offers a better chance to develop a winning crew from the competition between our own boats. From the start all of our men showed much better form and teamwork than the other schoolboy crews on the river, and C. H. L. S. should easily be the favorite in the race for the B. F. Keith trophy in the B. I. R. A. Regatta. All things considered, it would seem that our crew should have remarkable success during the coming season.

Get-Together Day

With a rush the great day was upon us December 5, 1919, represented the height of social times for C. H. & L. S. This was the Fourth Annual Get-together and the most successful of them all. The way in which everyone "got-together" to make the bazaar a success certainly shows that Latin School is not lacking in either class or school spirit. Those vitally interested in the management of the Get-together wish to express their appreciation of the wonderful spirit of enterprise, energy, and goodwill exhibited by the pupils and the teachers. This spirit enabled us to obtain $1100, which is to be used in erecting a fitting memorial for "our boys" who died "over there."

For the last time we have had the assistance of Miss Ryan, the general manager and organizer, who has been the leading light of the three previous bazaars. The class of '21 will undoubtedly miss her steady hand at the financial helm, for she contributed more time and energy than any other individual connected with the activity.
